Miss Lorenz Likes Winona

When asked her opinion of Winona, Miss Lorenz replied enthusiastically, "I think it is beautiful!"

Miss Jennie Lorenz, who is substituting for Dr. Jean Brady Jones in the dramatic department is a vitally interesting woman. Her brown eyes simply radiate with charm and friendliness. A bachelor of arts degree from the University of Wisconsin, a master's degree from the University of Iowa, graduate work in Columbia University, in addition to many years of teaching experience make her, truly, an educated individual.

Miss Lorenz has done most of her teaching in Wisconsin, although she has taught in other parts of the United States. For three years she taught in Phoenix, Arizona, and last year Miss Lorenz taught in Ruskin, La.

"There seems to be a growing interest in the importance of good speech throughout the United States; we are becoming speech-conscious," stated Miss Lorenz.

Lambs Sheared and Fleeced at Dorm

Dear Marg,

Here I am back at old W.S.T.C. — sorry you're not back. I have a special topic to write and three or four reference books home tonight so seein' as how there isn't much to do I thot I'd dash off a few scribbles to the ex-roomy.

I mustn't forget to tell you all about the freshmen initiation. We upperclassmen — ahem — have outdone ourselves in thinking up new forms of torture for the freshies.

The dear little lambs have been taught to curtsy and do we sheep from Shepard get respect! And listen, Marg, yours truly hasn't made her bed since Tuesday.

At a casual inspection one would think that the freshmen lambs were holding a convention of shiney noses, but its only part of their initiation. You know, old dear, babies don't use cosmetics and neither do they walk up and down stairs so our baby lambs have also taken to sliding up and down stairs, infant fashion.

One evening we had a comedy parade of freshies and tho' no one sang "I Love A Parade" the other inhabitants of the dining room showed their appreciation with enthusiastic applause. Some of the freshmen men refrained from bravos — out of sheer pity, I 'spose.

The men's club is doing its bit to make life miserable for the new men in the college. The sophomore big moment is lamenting the scarcity of buttons on those little purple caps. Were there two on each cap the freshies would have to drop everything.

The girls are all wondering how

Band Improved by Large Reed Section; Numbers 39

With an increase in personnel, especially in the reed section, the college band is launching upon its new year's work. Continuing under the capable direction of Harold Edstrom, the band numbers thirty-nine.

Flaunting new braid on their uniforms, the band made its first public appearance at the La Crosse-Winona game and its first college appearance Friday morning at chapel. Everett Edstrom is drum major.

Mr. Edstrom hopes for more and better results in practice as the band now meets as a regular class at eight every morning compared with the usual three times weekly.

At present approximately fifty students are enrolled in band activities. Of this number, thirty-nine, the names of whom are listed below, find places in the concert band.

Included in the personnel are the soloists of last year: Everett Edstrom, cornet; Ray Brown, clarinet; Orlando Johnson, and Olaf Sanden, trombone. Plans are being made for quartette work and the organization of band novelties.

Clarinets are: Maurice Schuh, Ray Brown, Bernard Busse, Margaret Buehler, Roger Busdicker, Beatrice Schaffner, Bernice Schaffner, Helen Welch, Helen English, Frances Miller, Lucille Sannes, John Wachs, John Kissling, Walter Wadewitz.

Saxophones are: Vivian Yates, Loren Wood, Victor Hafner, Suzanne Sucker, Mary Jane Weisman.

Drums: Orville Thomas, Alan Pawelek; Bases: Harold Miles, Fred Kissling; Altos: Lauren Am-dahl, Emmett Gibbons, Woodrow Toner, Helen Wyman; Baritone: Orlando Johnson, Clara Welch; Trumpets: Everett Edstrom, John Blatnik, William Bixby, Loren Joris, Wayne Dickerson, Carol Hilmer; Trombones: Olaf Sanden, John Duel, Walter Bush, Rosamond Amos.

K.K.'s Give Us a New Deal In Dance Music

Bedecked in flashy uniforms, the "Kampus Kings," new college orchestra, under the direction of Everett Edstrom, were highly acclaimed by those present at social hour last Tuesday evening.

Displaying unique music racks, employing new mutes, and playing from a library of numerous late orchestrations, the "Kampus Kings" provided a well selected program for the dancers. Enthusiastic support on the part of the students promises an addition of two saxophones, a trumpet, and a bass to the orchestra. The personnel of this group includes Ray Brown, alto saxophone, Olaf Sanden, trombone, Everett Edstrom, cornet, Orville Thomas, drums, and Harold Edstrom, piano.

ANNIVERSARY YEAR HONORED BY JUBILEE; TENTATIVE PLANS FOR YEAR IN PROCESS

Quality Not Quantity

Announcing a decided increase in scholastic ability this fall quarter, the decrease in enrollment to 380 is compensated. The freshman class numbers 155; the sophomores total 123; the juniors 50; and seniors 52. This fall quarter there are 136 men students in the college, which up-to-date is the largest enrollment of men.

All of the teachers colleges in the state, except Duluth, fell short in total attendance due to the oversupply of teachers, to the financial situation, to the elimination of the one year rural course and probably to the $30 annual tuition charge.

The enrollment at Winona Teachers College this year of 380 in comparison to the enrollment of recent years is:

1931 — 473, 1932 — 460, 1933 — 428.

All of the above figures were enumerated at the close of the first week of the fall quarter of each year.

The scholastic ability of the new students ranks very high in comparison to other years due to the large number of high school valedictorians and salutatorians who entered here this fall.

Former Students Secure Positions During Summer

Former students who have secured teaching positions for the ensuing year are: Eleanor Ames, Nodine; Margaret Ashler, Pleasant Valley; Hazel Chamberlain, Minneiska; Katherine Hager, Kellogg; Margaret Peterson, Rushford; Mary Elizabeth Schneider, Milbank, S. D.; Gertrude Torggrimson, Grand Meadow; Helen Hammond, Chatfield; Mrs. Marie Anderson, Red Wing Training School; Margaret Quigley, Mazeppa; Joseph Gislason, Aldorado; Laura Schuh, Lewiston; Elsie Grime, Frazee; Karyl Kemple, South Shore, S. D.; Mabel Weygant, Edgerton; Paul Berkman, Litchfield; Dorothy Burrows, Elmhurst, Ill.; Luella Carpenter, St. Francis; Mildred Wilson, Grand Meadow; Frances Peake, Mountain Lake; Hattie Southworth, Bassie; Beth Hartig, Miles City, Mont.; Ruth Bung, Maxine Dickerson, Anna Jane Buck, and Florence Schroth are doing cadet teaching in the city schools.

Freshmen Observations

A dormitory is a place where one reluctantly awakens at 6:30 with the feeling that bell-ringers will never get to heaven that way.

A study room isn't.

The library is the place to which a sophomore's books must be taken before 8:30, or else it's just "fine."

An upper-classman is one who can use an instructor's nick-name in general conversation without looking scared.

Winona — doubtless the world's greatest educational center. "Probable showers Monday."

Freshman lads are developing a decided aversion the old game, "Button, button."

Newcomers at Shepard Hall returned from the first housemeeting with the firm conviction that, while President Maxwell may be the nominal head of this institution, "Henry" is the power behind the throne.

When asked if her Moment stayed at West Lodge a freshman girl, with an air of one who knows, retorted, "Not often."

Sophomores' golden rule: "Do the freshmen as you have been done — only more so."

We're wondering if it really happened. It's said that in grammar class a freshman questioned, "If wondrous means full of wonder and superstitious means full of superstition, what about the word pious?"

After receiving the results of her spelling test, one freshie claimed kinship to Mae West. "I done 'em all wrong, too," she remarked glumly.

If there's anything to this safety in numbers theory, we're riding high. To the 53 seniors, 50 juniors, and 123 sophomores, we compare our own 151. Of that number only forty-five are masculine — O, the pity of it all!

First Week Features Stunt Night Program

To climax the first week of school, the traditional Stunt Night Party was given on Friday, September 7, in the gymnasium of the College Hall. The type of stunts varied from a comic ride in a model T Ford to musical numbers by the Mendelssohn and Apollo Clubs. Other organizations putting on stunts were: Shepard Hall, Morey Hall, West Lodge, Die-No-Mo Club, Y.W.C.A., Primary Club, Inter-

Reunion of Alumni at M. E. A.

Tickets May Be Secured now
For Banquet at Curtis
Thurs., Nov. 1

Marking the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of the first teacher-training institute "west of the Mississippi" at Winona in 1860, 1935 ushers in the Jubilee year.

Homecoming is the first activity to be stressed. The special committee composed of faculty members who are planning the year's memorial activities, has agreed to carry out the plan of former homecomings. On Friday, Oct. 20, a special assembly will be held. On Saturday, Oct. 21, preceding the homecoming game with St. Cloud, a parade of the four classes will be conducted. After the game, Morey and Shepard Halls will hold open house for all alumni and friends of the college. The homecoming dance will be held Saturday night.

The second part of the seventy-fifth anniversary program will be a reunion of alumni societies during the M.E.A. convention at Minneapolis which is being held Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, November 1, 2, and 3. The diamond jubilee theme will be stressed at the alumni banquet Thursday evening, November 1, in the Empire West Room of the Curtis Hotel. The reunion will occur at 5 p.m. and the dinner at 6 p.m., Mr. W. A. Owens giving the address. Miss Daisy Brown '07, president of the M.E.A. will be the guest of honor.

As a part of the commencement week exercises a pageant of historical episodes from the files of the college will be given in costume and accompanied by suitable music.

Tentative plans for further anniversary activities include historical exhibits, field day and a memorial organ recital. The usual commencement week program will be vivified and enlarged to include special jubilee plans.

Tickets for the alumni dinner at the Curtis Hotel may be secured from the college office, at the registration desk at homecoming or at the auditorium headquarters to the teachers colleges on the main floor of the Curtis Hotel. Tickets will be one dollar and reservations should be made as soon as possible to aid the committee in determining the number of guests.

AIMS OF THE WINONAN

1. To provide an organ for the expression of student thought and to unify ideals and objectives.
2. To foster the development of a wholesome school spirit and to support those traditions of the school which seem progressive.
3. To provide training in purposeful writing.
4. To establish contacts between alumni and college affairs.

A CHALLENGE TO THE FRESHMEN!

Reports coming to the desk of the editor indicate that you as Freshmen have much potential intelligence. That is all very fine; but the next question to raise itself is, Are you willing to convert this potential intelligence into dynamic, kinetic intelligence which leads to a serious attempt at understanding the important problems of today, such as building a social order that can use modern forces for the benefit of all, or will you merely become automatons who glibly repeat the truisms of a bygoing generation? Will you, when you have completed your training, use your intelligence as an inspiration to your students to blaze new trails, or will you remain safely within what is conventional, what is timeworn? Remote as these problems may seem to you now, they will determine, perhaps, whether you, in 1940 will be in a breadline, or whether you will enjoy your rightful share of the fruits of your toil. Take a tip from an upperclassman, much of what you may first think to be collegiate, the rah! rah! attitude, is nothing more than the outcropping of arrested mental development. It was Voltaire who said, "A nation which begins to think cannot be stopped."

STUDENT OPINION — WHERE IS IT?

In accordance with the democratic spirit of this institution, The Winonan will allow space in its issues for student comment, constructive and destructive criticism, opinion and argument upon some subject having bearing upon student life here. Articles should be to the point, legible, and signed. The signature will remain in the confidence of the staff. Let's have your suggestions!

One bright Sunday afternoon a friend and I enjoyed a hike in the magnificent "Winona Hills" following the beautiful "Birch Trail." This trail, built by the citizens of Winona for those people who appreciate the glory of nature, is one of distinction and its equal would be difficult to find. I was very disappointed to see that vandals had stripped many birches of their bark. This not only destroys the beauty of the trees but also shortens their lives. If this practice is to continue, the generation to follow will be deprived of the natural beauty that we are privileged to enjoy.

Phelps School Notes

The Phelps School opened September 4 with approximately 270 pupils enrolled in the kindergarten and grades, one to nine, inclusive. There is practically a capacity attendance in all but two grades. A number of pupils were turned away from some of the grades because of lack of room for them.

Miss Cathryn Cramer, fourth grade supervisor in the Phelps School, returned to the college Wednesday, September 26. Miss Cramer attended the State University of Iowa during the summer. She spent August and September at her home in Steamboat Rock, Ia., convalescing from a rather severe illness.

During the absence from her work, the fourth grade was taught by Miss Kathryn Jones, '34 of Red Wing, Minn. Supervision of the grade was given by intermediate grade supervisors.

At 3 p.m. Friday, Sept., 28 J. Franklin Caveney, painter of popular pictures and worker in clay will give an entertainment in the College Hall auditorium that is open to all college students and faculty members. It will prove of special interest to the children of the Phelps. All children of grades one to nine will attend the program.

Exhibit To Be Held Soon

The college is particularly fortunate this year in being able to offer to the students and the people of Winona a fine art exhibit, which will be hung October 10-24 in the club room of College Hall. The exhibition, "Survey of Painting" is circulated by the American Federation of Arts, a national organization for the cultivation of the arts, with headquarters in Washington, D. C. This exhibition consists of 75 color reproductions, most of them imported and represents a connected, visual record of the essential phases of European painting from the fourteenth century to the present period, including a few examples of painters in the United States.

The Art Club of the college, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Clark, will have charge of hanging the exhibit, and will be present during the hours the exhibit is to be open, in order to explain or discuss the pictures and their painters with guests.

Also in connection with the exhibit a lecture "Great Paintings by Old Masters" by Will Hutchins, professor of fine arts, American University, illustrated with thirty-five slides, will be given Friday, October 19, in assembly.

Dr. Frederick Rand Rogers, dean of Boston University's department of health, declared that the beautiful chorus girl is almost certain to be intelligent; that catch phrases like "Beautiful but dumb" are merely superstitions and that in the long run good things tend to go together.

CLUB NEWS

The Primary Club held a get acquainted party in the Club Room, Thursday, September 13.

The purpose of the party was to interest the new students in the club and to help them in becoming acquainted with each other and with the former members.

Several interesting and clever games which had been prepared by a committee, were played, and later in the evening refreshments were served.

Members of the International Relations Club will be the guests of Gamma Tau chapter of Kappa Delta Pi at its first meeting on Wednesday, October 3. Dr. Ella Murphy will give a talk on her experiences in China.

Newman Club News

On Sunday, September 23, the members of the Newman Club were hosts to the new Catholic students of the college at a picnic held at Bluffs park. Games were played and races run. Later a lunch of hamburgers and coffee was served to the group.

Art Club News

The Art Club meets this Wednesday to make plans for homecoming decorations. They will work on banners used to decorate the front of the college. Plans for decorating the dorms will be carried out by the occupants of the dormitories.

Initiation of new members will also be held at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon, after which tea will be served in the social room.

Auld Lange Syne

Mrs. J. C. Lyon (Lila Hall '29) is living in Sturgeon Bay, Wis., where her husband is athletic director and coach.

Katherine Burrows '32 is now Mrs. Walter Naas of Winona.

Lois Herr '32 is Mrs. La Rue Jensen '33 of Litchfield.

Morillae Gertrude Walker '26 was married to Forrest C. Knaup, Saturday, Sept. 1. They will be at home after Oct. 1 at Beaver Dam, Wis.

Miss Helen Coleman, who for several years taught French here in the college department, is now engaged in publicity work for a New York firm in Paris. She writes "with the American dollar at $.50 here, one certainly realizes that U. S. is off the gold standard. Prices are terrible."

Francis O'Neill '34 is running for county superintendent in his home county, Pipestone.

Harold Rogge '33 is employed by the emergency relief as recreational director in Winona.

Slender, silver, summer moon
Lighting up a blue lagoon;
Gracefully, gliding, green canoe
Carries along the lovers two,
Carelessly kissing quite in bliss,
Ignorant of danger in that kiss.
Deadly germs on sweet lips lie;
Why do they kiss? Oh why? O why?
But, if they must, it really does seem
That they should make use of Listerine.

Pegasus Entree:

This year, through the medium of this column, the "Winonan" will sponsor a poetry contest. From the poems submitted the best pieces will be published in the consecutive issues of this paper. Contributions will be welcomed throughout the year. At the end of the year, a committee of faculty and students will select from the published pieces, one poem, the author of which will be awarded a current book of poems. All contributors should leave their poems in a box in the activities room marked for that purpose.

The teacher had just asked the question "Who was the first Frenchman to sail down to the mouth of the Mississippi?" and of course expected the answer "La Salle."

Soon a little hand came up "La Jollette" was the answer.

Dr. Tozier has said that as yet he has never had a class in which some one was not mentally sleeping, yet having all the outward evidence of attention. Could he have anticipated — "With my eyes wide open, I'm dreamin'?"

Coach Greene Finds Team Cooperative

La Crosse T.C. Defeats Weakened Purple 12-0

Superior stamina coordinated with excellent reserve power resulted in La Crosse Teachers College defeating the Winona Teachers 12 to 0 here last Friday evening under the floodlights at College field.

Weakened by losses from injuries by their small amount of reserve power, the Purple took the field decidedly the underdogs.

Both teams punted often during the first quarter with Vince Vierzicke making gains for the Purple and Schwoegler gaining yardage for the Maroons; but neither team threatened to score.

After an exchange of punts from Winona's 12 to 42 yard lines in the start of the second quarter, Schwoegler, La Crosse, drove through tackle for sixteen yards to the Winona 26 yard line. On the next two plays the Purple showed defensive power and set the Maroons back two yards. With the ball on the Winona 28 yard line Schwoegler passed to Smallbrook for an eight yard gain. Schwoegler then made first down through center bringing the ball to the Winona 16 yard line. Harr pushed his way off left tackle for five yards and Butterwick drove through right tackle for seven to the 4 yard line. On the next play Harr raced around left end for the first touchdown. Schwoegler missed his kick for the extra point.

In the same quarter Vince Vierzicke, Winona, intercepted a pass on his own forty-five and carried the ball to the Maroon 38 yard line. Johnson smashed the line for 8 yards and an attempt at a pass was incomplete. Hall gained five yards through the line but lack of the necessary offensive power caused the Purple to punt, posing their only scoring chance.

In the third period, the Maroons substituted reserve line men and a complete backfield. Most of the period was taken up with punts and passes; Winona completing two, Blondie Johnson to Myles Peterson for 12 yards and Johnson to Vierzicke for 9 yards.

Winona received the ball on their own twenty in the final period as a result of an incom-

JOHNNY KOZLOWSKI
Acting Captain for the
La Crosse Game

Coach Earl Greene is following Glen Galligan's old traditions of electing his captain. Coach Green selected Johnny Kozlowski as captain for the first game. The captain of each separate game is selected before each game and serves for that game only. Johnny Kozlowski was honorary captain last year and was quick to be selected to represent the team in their first game with La Crosse.

Johnson's Jaunts

A survey of the Women's Physical Education Department reveals excellent equipment and playing facilities for women students. Tennis courts have been laid out at the athletic field and the department has just received several new tennis rackets which may be used by the students.

Class instruction in beginner's golf is sponsored through the W.A.A. and golf clubs are also available for use. For golfers who wish to play at the Westfield golf course, tickets may be obtained from Miss Pendergast free of charge.

Soccer is the sport of sports on Tuesday and Thursdays from 3 to 4. Later in the quarter field hockey will be played during this hour.

Splash parties at the Y.W.C.A. will be arranged at your request. Points may be earned at these parties as well as for all other activities.

You girls who have no desire to play for points, but like playing for play's sake, come out and have a good time. You know that all study and no play makes you a dull girl.

pleted pass over the goal by La Crosse. On the second attempt at passing Rennebohm, Maroon end, intercepted on the Purple thirty-five. Butterwick gained five yards followed by Schwoegler with two line drives totalling 24 yards. Harr made two yards around left end and Schwoegler added four through the line to place the ball on the Winona one yard line. Butterwick plunged through the line for a touchdown, Hundt's kick for the point was blocked by Bill Gebhard, left end.

The game ended with the Purple making a last attempt for a quick touchdown on a pass.

La Crosse made 15 first downs and completed two passes for eighteen yards, while Winona made five first downs and completed four passes for first downs totalling 57 yards.

EARL GREENE

Coach Greene Has High Hopes for Team

"I have found the football men and faculty cooperative and willing to work with me," is the way Coach Greene characterizes his short experience here.

Being rather reticent as to his past successes, Mr. Green admits that he has coached some winning teams. In 1923 at Albany College, Oregon, Mr. Greene developed three championship football teams; never losing a game in three seasons of play, and again repeating three championship football teams at McLoughen Union High School, Milton, Oregon. Likewise successful in another athletic field, Mr. Greene, at the same high school, created three district championship basketball teams and a runner-up championship team in another year.

In the third field, track activity, his winning touch still prevailed, first at Albany College where his teams were winners of two dual meets and runners-up in a conference championship. Later at McLoughen Union High School his squad won four district championships in as many years. After ten years of successful coaching on the Pacific coast, Mr. Greene was elected freshman coach at Iowa State College, a distinction in itself.

Mr. Greene received his training under such famous coaches as Knute Rockne of Notre Dame, Zupke of Illinois, Meanwell of Wisconsin, Hager, Behessler, Hayward, and Reinhardt, all of Oregon State.

His personal playing record includes an all-conference guard position at Albion College, Michigan, and regular berth on the University of Illinois football team. He has also participated in high school and other organized sports. He has been director of Y.M.C.A., church, and student functions.

Mr. Greene is married and has two small sons. He comes highly recommended by faculty members of Iowa State College at Iowa City.

THE HUDDLE

By Karl Kreuzer

Winona won a moral victory when it was defeated last Friday by La Crosse, 12 to 0. La Crosse has an abundance of man power due to the characteristics of the curriculum. They major in physical education.

In the past years La Crosse has always taken the upper hand when the two schools have met in any athletic activity. They were doped to win.

Considering the injuries of Horace Chase, Myles Peterson, and Blondie Johnson, the introduction of a new coach and system, and also that this was their first game, Winona gave the Maroons a scrappy battle.

We have a team to be proud of and should look forward with great enthusiasm to the Northern Conference games.

Coach Greene ran up against some tough luck when "Pee Wee" Thurley injured his leg in practice and was unable to appear in a suit last Friday night. The left end berth caused Coach a great deal of trouble in the first game. Verne Herman is a scrappy player and gives everything he's got but he is at a disadvantage at the end position because of his lack of size.

Captain Johnny Kozlowski played good ball in the line as did Horace Chase, center, and Gene Jaspers, tackle. Vince Vierzicke was outstanding in the backfield, but Hall, Johnson, and Moilanen also played good ball.

Myles Peterson, handicapped by an injury received in practice, got off some nice punts and, until the injury caused his removal from the field, was "in there fighting."

Winona fans received a surprise when the Purple reinacted the Chicago Bears' method of play. They completed two passes, one on their own ten, another on their own twenty. It's good football when completed, but makes a team look bad when incomplete.

Student interest in the game seemed to wane late in the fourth quarter. Quite a few students were seen leaving the game. We should show our team enough respect and have enough school spirit to stay to the finish of the game and see our team through even if they are playing a losing game.

Because of the length of time between issues of the Winonan, games become old and uninteresting. In the future the sports editors will attempt to write a few comments on each game to appear in the column. If this doesn't prove satisfactory, we would appreciate your suggestions to be placed in the "Open Forum" or in the basket on the desk in the Activities room.

This week we are giving our readers, if there be such, a few practical hints on the best from in letter-writing, and what could be more helpful than a few sample letters written by an old master in the art of correspondence.

It is evident to most of us, we believe, that the ability to write a clear, forceful, and also convincing love-letter is a valuable asset. Perhaps this sample written by our professional, will be helpful.

Miss .....

Penny Pincher Lane
Muddyville, Ia.

Dear Miss .....

Received your smile on the eighteenth with thrills and heart-throbs. We are hereby ordering one carload more of same, in payment of which you will receive an annuity of love and kisses.

We trust you will pardon this stationery, as it is all we have in stock. Several carloads of our Super-Vellum Linen was lost in transit.

Enclosed please find one (1) love lyric of high quality, in payment of which you will please remit one (1) kiss on high.

Very truly yours,

Sugar-Daddy, Inc.

Letter of Condolence

Dear Hank,

I wuz gal-derned sorry to hear that yore sister got her hand cut off in the corn-shredder. It's a shame! That's wot 'tis — a dirty shame! She was a blame good milker.

How is the bay colt comin' along?

Yourn,

Si.

P. S. — You owe me a chaw o' tobaccy.

And by way of change we will forthwith present what we jestingly call poetry. This should strike a sympathetic vein in some of our new students.

On Being a Freshman

A sorry lot is mine, dear sirs,
I'm a Freshie at a college
And all I get is paddlings —
Instead of collitch-knowlitch.

They make me wear a tiny cap
(I feel so silly in it)
I do not like the idear at all,
There should be a law agin' it.

They never treat me with respect,
Those snooty upper-classmen —
I s'pose it's too much to expect
Of snooty upper-classmen.

I'll never bow to such defeat
I'm going to make a rally,
And only hope that I can meet —
A senior in an alley.

By the consideration of the faculty the library is now open evenings and as a result of a thorough investigation of our staff sta-tis-tian we compiled some interesting statistics. 37.8% more students study in the evening than formerly, 52.6% of the women study in the library and 96.8% of the men. Thereby we conclude that more studying is being done.

More interesting data: our student membership is proof positive that American youths are growing taller; 3.3% of the new men students are over six feet tall; 2.5% are just six feet — and 1.87% of women are nearly six feet tall. (This is good material for the Public Relations Committee to use to attract new students.)

OVERHEARD AT THE COLLEGIATE!

Harold E. — How does the band sound? Especially the clarinet section?

Glenna Ames — Oh they sound fine, but the reed section is awfully screechy!

Have You Heard

That the quantity of freshmen has decreased but the quality increased.

That a very enthusiastic senior male threatened to have the freshmen take Ruth Hardt for a wheelbarrow ride to the La Crosse-Winona football game.

That a higher percentage of upper classmen are collaborating with the freshmen on social, recreational and studious enterprizes, than previously. Luther McCown can give you the particulars.

That the biology laboratory expects to have two new microscopes soon.

That high heels, according to Christopher Morley, were invented by a woman who had been kissed on the forehead.

That Mr. Jederman has been playing around with walnuts.

That the three cent ice cream cones were quite popular.

That some freshie at the physical examinations innocently asked, "Must I sit on that scale to be weighed?"

That Doris tried a new and fast way coming down Garvin Heights. It resulted in her having several stitches taken in her forehead.

That Stanley Arbingast is no longer honoring us by being a member of our student body, although he still haunts the corridors and activities room.

That while Esther Steffes was contemplating buying a feather for her hat, she asked the clerk in Choates', "Have you got feathers?"

That Dr. Murphy taught in the Yenching University at Peiping, China.

That the usual tall stories have been circulated at the dormitories and that the usual gullible freshman have believed them.

Any whistling.

That with the combined influence of several prominent Minneapolis men and some of the instructors at T. C., Victor Gislason has at last "Made" that great fraternity, "Phy. Ed. Trs. Crs."

Mr. Robinsons' boots clattering.

That being laid up for football is one thing, but missing social hour is another.

That Gilbert Courtier and Wayne Dickerson are the new cheerleaders.

That the freshmen really do have talent as exhibited at the La Crosse-Winona game.

First Week Features Stunt Night Program

mediate Club, W.A.A., Country Life Club, Junior High School Club, and the Art Club.

In order that the students might become acquainted with each other as well as with the activities of the various clubs, an hour of social dancing was enjoyed, after the presentation of the stunts.

Lambs Sheared at Dorm

many of the initiation stunts Blondie Johnson thot of — he's probably evening up the score. These new men certainly are being punished.

Speaking of punishment, I'd better hang out a white flag and go back to my books or I'll be punished in class tomorrow.

G'nite,

Louise

SCIENCE SOUNDINGS

1. Densities as great as a ton to the cubic inch — sixty thousand times as great as that of water — exist in certain stars.

2. A 100 pound weight will not fall 100 times faster than a one pound weight as Aristotle postulated; both bodies will fall with equal velocities from equal heights.

3. A bullet fired from a gun in a perfect horizontal direction will strike the ground just as quickly as though it had been freely dropped from the muzzle.

4. A dam holding back a pool of water 100 yards long will have to be just as strong as one holding back a lake 100 miles long, providing that the water levels are the same.

AGE

Mozart gave concerts when only 6 years of age.

Josiah was king of Israel at 8.

Goethe wrote at 10; Pope was writing sonnets at 14; and when 15 Victor Hugo furnished an acceptable poem to the French Academy.

Handel wrote opera at 14, while at 16 Bacon could think so soundly that he was able to detect errors in the philosophy of Aristotle.

Pascal wrote a treatise on conic sections when only 16.

Galileo discovered the principle of the pendulum when only 18, and at the same age Mendelssohn composed his "Midsummer Night's Dream," and Bryant wrote his "Thanatopsis."

When only 19 years of age Charles the 12th was the successful king of Sweden, and George Washington was made a major at the same age.

At 20 Weber was writing his beautiful symphonies and La-Fayette was a major-general.

Life

A sigh, a glance,
A joy, a tear,
A heart, a soul,
Strength, and fear.

Happiness, pleasure,
Ecstasy, pain,
A bit of sunshine,
A bit of rain.

Rest and peace,
Trouble and strife;
All of these
Make human life.

—Frederick Nelson.
